New York City, September 5, 1895.

Superintendent,

Mint of the United States,

Philadelphia, Pa.

Sir:-

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of yesterday enclosing tags from bags containing silver coin received by you from this office recently and in which differences were found. These differences are so surprising that I am causing a special investigation to be made here and when this shall have been completed, I will communicate further.

I am unable at present to determine as to what can be done with the shortage reported in eight bags, the tags of which were not returned to this office.

Very respectfully,

Assistant Treasurer U.S.
